I Am Here to Heal

Prophecy250413 – April 13, 2025

I am here to heal, says the Lord. I'm here to heal. I'm there where you're watching to heal, says the Lord. When you think of healing, most think of the physical. But I provided through My stripes an inward healing against all fear, against all abandonment, against all heartbreak and emotional challenges.

Come unto Me, you that are laden down with burdens, and I'll give you rest. Take a yoke upon you that I provided through My Son, that a peace that passes all understanding will guide you through the storm. If you'll reach out to Me, I've already provided all the substance you need to get to the other side. And the healing that you need is here; it's provided. Yield to that place. Be strengthened, be healed.

All the guards, the guardianship of your soul – you've placed up many barriers. It's time to drop those shields before My presence and invite Me into every room. Because I do not come in this morning as a judge, but as a healer, accusing nothing, but healing all. Give way to My mercy, give way to My grace, give way to My love, says the Spirit of Grace.
