I Dwell in the Dark to Bring You into the Light

Prophecy250817 – August 17, 2025

For I dwell in the dungeons of despair, the deep dark places of hopelessness according to natural hope. I've shackled myself to you in your trial, in your burden, says the Spirit of Grace. For I, the Lord who has redeemed you has also stepped back into dark places with you, says the Spirit of Grace. For I've not sent the trial that has come to try you, that battles every moment of hope. But hope against hope, says the Spirit of Grace.

Know this, as I said in the psalms, I'll make your bed; I'll comfort you and raise you up. Know this, that I've shackled Myself to you as a prisoner of your faith to bring you forth, that the position that I paid the price for, together, you and I will come out of this. Stand fast in hope knowing that I will never leave you nor forsake you, says the Spirit of the Lord.

I dwell in dark places to bring [up] those whose cheek is against the earth and only are tasting the dust of despair. Mine is not a high and lofty place or party-spirit, but I love to dwell with the hurting. I love to dwell with those in despair, that I may bring them forth and cause them to stand in a place of strength and hope, says the Spirit of Grace.

So, know this, there's light in the darkness. There's promise – hold to My promise. Hold to My promise, it is life and health to your [body], and marrow to your bones and to your navel of your flesh. All that you have is based upon My Word, says the Spirit of Grace.

Hope against hope, and I'll bring you forth, says the Spirit of Grace. I've shackled Myself to you in the dungeons of despair, that you and I together would hope against hope and come forth in life and light and everything that I provided for you, says the Spirit of Grace.
