Love & Answers in My Presence

Prophecy251019b – October 19, 2025

I come to answer the questions of your heart, says the Spirit of Grace. For you've asked, "Does anybody know this? Can anybody help me in this?" For I've provided by My Spirit first a peace that passes all understanding, and then a deep well of My love for you to come into it. Above all things I invite you into this place, to this pool of My love and of My presence.

Knowledge alone will not change or give you the answers, but you'll find your answers to the deepest questions of your heart in this place of My presence, in this pool of My love. For I'm desiring you. I'm desiring you to come in so that I can lavish My love on you.

Know this, that fears cannot stay in My presence. [And this is] not just in a church service, but if you'll follow Me in this, if you'll yield your heart to Me, you'll find places in your life that you did not know could exist. But I'll do, I will do exceeding, abundantly above all that your heart is even asking for now. I'll bring you into it.
