Keep Coming, Keep Expecting

Prophecy260114 – January 14, 2026

Come, come, come. Come expecting. Come expecting. Come expecting the move, expecting My move. Come expecting in this place. Come expecting the signs, the wonders, the miracles to flow. Come expecting souls to be saved. For what you believe for, what you expect, that's what will come, but it's your expectation. I desire to pour out My Spirit among all flesh. I desire for all men to be saved. I desire for miracles, signs, and wonders to flow.

So, I want you to keep coming into Me. Keep coming into Me. Keep coming into Me. Keep coming, expecting like you've never expected before. Expect the mighty move of the Spirit, expect the mighty move of the glory, and not just in this place, but everywhere you go. Expect My Spirit to move even through you everywhere you go and see the lives change, because the time is so short. My Son is coming and the time is short. The time is now to win the lost. To believe, believe, believe, believe. Expect it to come and it will surely come.
