Don't Let the Soul Stop the Spirit

Prophecy260816 – August 16, 2026

What holds back more miracles than what you know is emotions, says the Spirit of the Lord; waiting on something as a sign or a feeling to pass over you or through you to believe. But I say unto you that My Word is the beginning of all faith, stepping out into that place and laying hold on it against all feelings, against all emotions, against everything that would present itself as a living argument to the mind, and standing in that place and saying, “Lord, against all evidence, I hold Your evidence in highest regard,” says the Spirit of Grace.

Don't let that which belongs to the soul realm stop that which is provided for you in the spirit realm, says the Spirit of Grace. Let these things be accessible to you. Bypass those places by faith and reach out and receive that which I have provided for you against all arguments, against all things, says the Spirit of the Lord. And when these things are believed, when they're stood on and believed, then you'll see them pass into the natural realm, and things will materialize just like you're believing for, says the Spirit of Grace.
