Intercede Often

Prophecy260819 – August 19, 2026

For the enemy at large is angry against the Church. For he knows his days are shortened, not just in My coming, but also in the Outpouring. But he'll seek every way he can to come against the home, the family, the children. This is why I'm teaching you, says the Spirit of Grace, on how to stand and make your stand. Make your stand in these days, not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, says the Lord, and you'll find that I'll bring forth a glory that will extinguish the powers of the enemy and divert things even before they come online.

Stay in My presence, not just in this night, but going forward, going forward into those places of communion, says the Spirit of Grace. For you'll change not only things in your life, but you'll be a greater service for those in the Church and those that you'll be interceding for. You'll never know exactly, nor they, what things you turned in this life. But I'll show you in the days to come when you join with Me in that place where you and I will enjoy eternity together, and the family is all gathered.

So, intercede often – for your family in the Church and your family in blood, in kindred kinship.
