They Will Know Me Because You Know Me

Prophecy261115 – November 15, 2026

For truly, truly the harvest is ripe. The season is come, and I'm laying on you as My harvesters to go out and compel them to come in, says the Spirit of the Lord. Allow Me to lay My hand upon you through the knowledge of knowing Me in places of intimacy and fellowship. That they'll know, through you knowing Me, that I am real and I've come to change their life, redirect their life, and bring them out of those places of prisons in their hearts and their minds. Now's the season. It's come to full maturity, because I'm laying My hand on you because of where you've come to, says the Spirit of Grace.
